

Tribo and BANTLEON decide on "strategic partnership"

The German based companies Tribo-Chemie GmbH, 97762 Hammelburg and Hermann Bantleon GmbH, 89077 Ulm have decided on a strategic partnership with effect from 01.01.2021.

Both companies have been lubricant specialists with high development and production competence for many years.

The values lived in both companies, with a clear focus on innovation, quality, customer orientation, reliability, flexibility and commitment in word and in action, form the basis of a sustainable, strategic partnership.

In the end, customers benefit from a close-meshed, area-wide customer service, as well as a wide-ranging synergy of product and service competence along the die casting & forging process chains.